

DETERMINED TO GET AN ANSWER

Interstate Commerce Commission in Pursuit of Beer.

WILL APPEAL TO THE COURTS

PAPERS IN THE CASE WILL BE SIGNED TODAY.

Washington, May 21.—A vigorous effort is to be made by the interstate commerce commission to compel President Baer of the Reading Coal & Iron company and the Reading railway and officials of other anthracite coal-carrying roads to answer certain questions and produce certain documents which they refused at the recent hearing before the commission in New York.

The particular documents, the originals of which are demanded by the commission, are alleged contracts among the coal-carrying roads limiting the production of coal. After considering the refusal of the officials to present the contracts to the interstate commerce commission, the members of the commission requested Attorney General Knox to direct General Burnett, district attorney for the southern district of New York, to present the contracts to the United States circuit court and ask for an order to compel the officials of the coal-carrying roads to appear before the commission, answer the questions and produce the documents. This request was made May 8. The same day Attorney General Knox gave the necessary directions to General Burnett.

In co-operation with the attorneys for the complainant in the case of William R. Hearst, General Burnett has prepared the petition to be presented to the circuit court. It was received by the interstate commerce commission today. As soon as it can be examined, it will be signed, probably tomorrow, and returned to the district attorney. The probabilities are that it will be presented formally to the circuit court next Monday.

It is understood to be the determination of the interstate commerce commission to insist upon an order from the court to the officials of the roads to answer the inquiries which they declined, by the advice of counsel, to answer at the recent hearing, and to produce for the commission's examination the books and contracts which they heretofore refused to produce.

If necessary, the commission will carry the case to the United States supreme court.

DENVER STRIKE OVER

Both Sides Made Concessions—

Whole Matter Will Be Submitted to Arbitration.

Denver, Colo., May 21.—The strike which for several days has practically paralyzed the business of the city, involving nearly 10,000 men and women and threatening to force into idleness twice that number, has been brought to a halt at 7 o'clock this evening through the efforts of a committee from the chamber of commerce, typographical union, and the typographical union. Though both sides made concessions, the victory seems to have been won by the employers. The agreement entered into between the general executive committee of the labor and the executive committee of the Citizens' alliance, whose membership embraces nearly all the employers and employees in the city, provides that the present differences by a board to consist of five each of employers and employees directly involved in the present trouble, with, if necessary, an eleventh man who has not been so involved, the findings of this board to be binding upon all members of the Citizens' alliance and upon all unions represented by the general executive committee, all strikes, lockouts and boycotts of employers and employees to be discontinued, the men now out are to be reinstated as rapidly as their services can be utilized; all suits for injunctions are to be withdrawn.

BRAKE FAILED TO WORK

Chicago, May 21.—Twelve persons were injured, five of them dangerously, and a score of others thrown into a panic by a collision between electric cars at Thirty-fifth and Halsted streets today. The brakes on one car failed to work.

For Those Who Live on Farms.

Dr. Bergh, P. M. D., writes: "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment; always recommend it to my friends, as I am confident there is no better made. It is a remedy for burns, frost-bites, who live on farms are especially liable to many accidental cuts, burns and bruises, which heal rapidly when Ballard's Snow Liniment is applied. It should always be kept in the house for cases of emergency. 50c and $1.00 at Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept."

SPECIAL RATES TO PROVO

A POSSIBILITY.

That Became a Fact and Pleases Many Bald People.

A. L. Lewis, M. D., in a lengthy article in the columns of the American Journal of Health, says concerning hair: "It is deterioration of condition, due to lack of blood to the hair, consequently bald people are really diseased by 'faking' hair restoratives. The only way to cure baldness is to point out the cause of the trouble, which actually does 'fill' the hair, it restores the parasite that attacks the hair root, and prevents dandruff, falling hair and baldness." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

MR. RICHARDS' RETURN

Went to Washington in Interests of Proposed Utah Lake Reservoir.

Franklin S. Richards returned yesterday from Washington, where he went in the interest of the plan for the government to make a reservoir of Utah lake. He reported encouraging progress, although no definite decision by the department of the interior will be known for some little time yet.

"I was cordially treated all through the interior department," said Mr. Richards, "and I saw every official who would have anything to do with the work on Utah lake, from the secretary of the interior down. My time was taken up principally with the assistant attorney general connected with the interior department. I made a complete statement of the conditions here and the work to be done in connection with Utah lake, and then made recommendations to the government as to how it should be done."

"I did not ask the interior department what we should do; I told them what we thought they should do. I found this met with the approval of the department. They told me they wished every state would do the same—each work out its own problems and tell them what ought to be done—instead of coming with questions as to what the government should do. I submitted a brief on the whole subject to the department, and this has been taken under advisement. I do not know how soon we will get a decision."

As soon as a decision is received from Washington a meeting of the arid land reclamation commission will be called to discuss future plans. The meeting may be held in a few days.

Amusements.

Somehow it is hard to believe that William H. Crane "makes up" all for the part of David Harum. It seems to envelop him so snugly, to fit him so naturally, that we are almost sure he is a "trading" fun-loving, big-hearted country banker, off the stage as well as on.

David Harum is not a great play. There isn't much to it but David is as long as David is in the hands of William H. Crane we don't need any more. He seemed to have stepped right out of the pages of the Westcott book. Mr. Westcott gave us a beautifully quaint, lovable character. Mr. Crane makes that character live and breathe and have a swing. The character has taken some liberties with the text, but they may be set down as dramatic license, and few will say that the character has been hurt in the least. For, after all, David is preserved wholly and entirely, and David is the main thing.

The delightful philosophy that permeated the book permeated the play. It is full of such things as: "Why, it's good for a dog to have fleas, because they keep him from remembering that he is a dog." And Mr. Crane made the most of his part. That is a poor compliment, too, in view of the fact that he was David Harum.

There isn't a great deal of action in the play, but there wasn't much action in the book, and thousands have seen and will see the play. As the book was worth reading, so the play is worth seeing. Mr. Crane has brought to Salt Lake practically the original New York company. The cast has about one or two weak spots in it but it is, on the whole, excellent.

A particularly clever bit of work was done by Charles Jackson as "Chet." Timson, David Harum's extremely important "head cashier." Chet was a country boy with an extraordinary case of chest. And in the hands of Mr. Jackson he never lost sight of his importance for a moment except when he was asked to be the audience of General Wolsey (Frank Burck).

Another splendid characterization was that of the Widow Culham by Lois Frances Clark. She was the widow most of us have seen, and she made her troubles seem very real. Charles Avery was amusing as Peleg Hopkins, the stammering boy.

Mr. Crane's engagement fills out the balance of the week at the theatre, with the usual matinee on Saturday.

"East Lynne" will again be given at the Grand tonight.

The usual Saturday night ball will be given at Salt Lake tomorrow night, less of weather conditions. These events have proven very popular and the management feels encouraged to continue them. The regular dance train leaves the city at 7:30 o'clock, returning in plenty of time to catch the last car for home.

Samuel Freedman, business representative of E. H. Sothern, who comes to the Salt Lake theatre for the last half of next week in "If I Were King" is in Salt Lake.

HOW TO PRESERVE YOUR EYES

A Few Things We Should All Know.

PEOPLE ARE VERY CARELESS

Little Indiscretion May Cause Much Trouble.

The brain always gives us notice in some way when our eyes are being injured. This notice may be in the nature of a headache, neuralgia, eyes easily exhausted, sleepiness after reading a few minutes or some nervous trouble. Any of these symptoms should be sufficient to make us inquire into the cause and seek relief before they become chronic and undermine our health.

"People are very careless as a rule," observed Dr. Dodd, the eye specialist. "No one should strain their eyes by reading when they are weak or in an exhausted condition. People should sit erect always when reading or writing, as reading when lying down, or even in a stooping position, is very injurious to the eyes. When on the train one should not read, and if you must read while the train is in motion, hold a card before the line you read, moving it down one line at a time. One great mistake made by many is in the position of their head. Never sleep in a bed that causes you to face a window or strong light upon waking, for when one sleeps the pupil is naturally in a dilated condition, and the shock upon awakening of a sudden light upon awakening is very dangerous."

"It used to be in very good form to say, 'Glasses are unnecessary to me, and I will not wear them.' Now, however, there has been such advancement made that we are able to furnish every peculiarity in nose or face with becoming glasses. Glasses are made so much lighter nowadays, and those delicate skeletons, either in nose or with wires to go behind the ears, are considered good taste and very stylish for young or middle-aged people especially."

The majority of opticians overlook the fact that it is of the greatest importance that the frames fit exactly, not altogether because they look better, but principally because they have a different effect upon the eyes they cover.

"Many who even have glasses, 'as they fitted,' thought to their eyes become dissatisfied with them in a short time. This is generally due to the fact that some muscular trouble has been overlooked by the man who fitted them, or some latent 'hidden' weakness makes, colored and white grounds—all the handsomest waist designs, worth up to $1.00 a yard, for a pair of glasses, 48c.
